ARSON TRIAL CONTINUES
Defense Witnesses on Stand in Pummerantz Trial in Superior Court.

Witnesses for the defense were on the stand all day Wednesday in the superior court here in the trial of the case of Nathan Pummerantz, charged with the murder of Jacob Neidetz, a tailor, employed by Pummerantz about the time of the fire, testified through an interpreter. He said that he had been in the front of the store, the testimony being introduced to offset the testimony of the state witnesses.

The defense still has one or two more witnesses yet to examine at the court session today and there are a few witnesses in rebuttal.

In the Pummerantz case, Wednesday the first witness was Jacob Neidetz, a tailor, employed by Pummerantz about the time of the fire, testified through an interpreter. He said that he had been in the front of the store, the testimony being introduced to offset the testimony of the state witnesses.

The witness stated that Pummerantz went into the store the day after the fire and took away three books and $800 in money, telling the firemen it was all right. The amount of the money was ruled out by the court.

Edward P. Condon of New London, a former clothing clerk, told of taking account of the stock of the Pummerantz store for Deputy Sheriff Puhlan in March, the goods then being stored over Palmer's garage in Bank street.

There was a discussion between the state and defense attorneys as to whether the inventory list should be allowed and the court ruled that it should be laid here.

POTATO NIGHT AT NORWICH GRANGE

Rev. E. W. Ayer of Franklin Tells What He Did on an Old Farm—Rased 800 Bushels From 3 1/2 Acres—Hon. Luther K. Zabriskie Tells About Potatoes in Peru.

Norwich grange, No. 172, Patrons of Husbandry, carried out a "potato night" programme at its meeting Wednesday evening in Pythian hall, where worthy Master E. C. Jewett presided and the attendance numbered over 100.

The business part of the meeting was a short one and at 8 o'clock the social part was thrown open to the grange members and their guests.

On the subject of potatoes, the Rev. E. W. Ayer of Franklin, who has been in the country with the idea that uniform seed shall be planted and a uniform crop raised which can be marketed through the assistance of the county agent, he said that he had not been able to get around the county much so far, but that he already had 60 acres of potatoes planted on this farm. He estimated that 400 cartloads of potatoes are brought into the county in a year, probably 200 cartloads coming to Norwich.

Potatoes in Peru.
The next speaker introduced by Worthy Master Jewett was Hon. Luther K. Zabriskie of Preston, who gave an interesting talk upon potatoes in Peru, which he said was recognized as the home of the potato. Mr. Zabriskie, who is a native of Peru, has been in the country for the first time in four years.

The Peruvian potatoes, he said, run all the way from marbles to mangel beans in size and one most popular variety is the yellow potato, which is about the size of a hen's egg. It has a delicate taste and cannot be grown anywhere else. Even experiments with it in the neighboring country of Chile have failed.

Peru is a country in which it is possible by irrigation from the rivers, as it never rains. Recently artesian wells have been coming into use. The methods of cultivation are much the same as here.

He spoke of the big public markets in Lima and Callao, while in the smaller places the wares to be disposed of are spread out on the flagging of the plazas.

A singular woman, who was a visitor at the meeting, and is lady assistant steward of the grange at Springfield, Vt., was called upon to give the degree work that is done in that lodge, which has been frequently called upon to put on the degrees before a state range of Vermont.

Several games conducted by Lecturer Maples concluded the programme. He also announced a whist evening to be conducted by the grange.

10 Above Zero.
A telephone message received from Trading Post at the Bulletin office at 1:10 o'clock this (Thursday) morning volunteered the information that it was just 10 degrees above zero there.

A few minutes later another message stated that a large reflection was seen in the sky in the neighborhood of Montville Center and it was thought that a big fire was raging there, but no trace of any fire could be gotten hold of this morning.

Speaking for Farmers' Exchange.
County Agent Murray D. Lincoln is to be heard at the grange on Wednesday morning by Coatesville, N. H., speaking upon the plan for the organization of a farmers' exchange in this county.
